

38th Annual Meeting
Chicago, Illinois
April 15-16, 2015

Call for Papers

The purposes of the Society for the Study of Curriculum History are to encourage scholarly study of curriculum history and to provide an opportunity for the presentation and discussion of research inquiries into curriculum history. The Society was founded in April of 1977 at Teachers College, Columbia University. Attendance at the annual meeting, held in conjunction with the AERA conference, is open to all.

Proposals for the SSCH meeting should generally reflect interpretations of important issues and influential events and persons in the history of the curriculum field, and in the history of the formation of curriculum theory, curriculum policy, and curriculum practice. We welcome traditional papers and symposium submissions, but we also are interested in new and alternative forms of presentation. The Society welcomes submissions from professors, international scholars, and doctoral students researching all aspects and subjects of the school curriculum.

Send the following (as a single file) electronically:

1. Cover page including title of paper, name of presenter, institutional affiliation, office mailing address, office telephone and fax numbers and e-mail addresses;
2. A 500 word proposal that includes statements of objectives, paper objective, data sources, research methodology, general conclusions and a statement on why this would be of interest to the members of the society, and technology needed for the presentation.

Single copies of electronic submissions should be sent to burlbaw@tamu.edu

Include as the subject line of the email – SSCH 2015 Session Proposal

Deadline for receipt of proposals is December 15, 2014.

All proposals will be reviewed; submitting author will be notified of acceptance by February 1, 2015

The Society encourages the copying and re-distribution of this announcement. Thank you.
